The application deadline for the 2008 GLR/MI Wing encampment is being extended.

Despite an excellent response, to give everyone the chance to get their applications in, the deadline is being extended to July 1. However, please get your application in as soon as possible so they can be processed ahead of time.

Cadets wishing to apply to Cadet Leadership School are especially encouraged to apply ASAP as they already have 16 students registered, and we are considering a cap of 30. So, if you're interested in CLS, get your application in right away.

Procedures for applications coming in after the July 1 deadline will be released as that date gets closer.

Also, don't forget that positions are open for cadets to serve on support staff in air operations, public affairs, communications and training. Details on how to apply for those positions were emailed out last week.
